

3rd Degree* reviews past decade

This Tuesday, 11 May 2010, the multi-award winning show 3rd Degree looks back at ten years chasing con artists down narrow passageways, catching scam artists and crooks red-handed and holding the powerful to account.

Reportedly the most watched current affairs show in South Africa, pulling in at least 1,8 million viewers a night it has made Debora Patta, anchor and executive producer of the show, a household name synonymous with investigative journalism.

Over the past ten years, she's put the powerful and the wicked in the hot seat, relentlessly demanding replies to tough questions, refusing to take no for an answer.
