

RedRibbon website goes live

Metropolitan and SABCOHA (The South African Business Coalition on HIV/AIDS) have launched South Africa's first definitive AIDS web portal.

The new RedRibbon website, www.redribbon.co.za, has been developed into a comprehensive, one-stop HIV/AIDS information destination - providing business and employees with all the knowledge they require to manage and fight the AIDS pandemic ... effectively and positively.

Metropolitan AIDS Research Unit, the owner of RedRibbon, has formed various partnerships with credible information providers, which include, SABCOHA (The South African Business Coalition on HIV/AIDS); AIL Legal Network; David Patient, who has been "living positively" with the HIV virus for over 18 years; and The Southern African HIV Clinicians' Society.

Visitors to the website can also access information on Basic AIDS, which is compiled and managed by Metropolitan's AIDS Research Unit.
