

Johannesburg student receives CWG bursary

Wade Sander of Northcliff, Johannesburg who is currently at Elsenburg studying for his B Agric degree in oenology and viticulture, is the eighth recipient of the Cape Winemakers Guild study bursary, as part of its on-going Protégé Programme to further the development of young aspirin winemakers. The bursaries provide students with financial support during their final year of stud after which they can apply for the Guild's three-year internship programme.

Intrigued by the taste and complexity of wine, Wade decided to trade the gold mines for the Cape winelan and enrolled at Elsenburg to pursue his passion and desire to make his own wine.

"My dream is to own an organic wine estate, where I could grow grapes and create high quality premium wines under my own label," says Sander, a third year student.

Once he has graduated, Wade will be interviewed for the Cape Winemakers Guild Protégé Programme, which offers students a three-year internship during which time they will have the opportunity to learn from, and work alongside some of the country's best winemakers who are members of the Guild.

Students interested in applying for the Protégé Programme can visit the Guild's website at www.capewinemakersguild.com.
