

Recall of Fun Foam Foaming Bath Wash

Consumers who have purchased Fun Foam Foaming Bath Wash products countrywide are being asked to return the products. SMI International has announced the urgent recall, following the discovery of a malfunction in the valve mechanism, which has caused the product to either leak or blow over time.

As a safety precaution and measure to prevent any possible mishaps, consumers are advised to stop using the recalled products with immediate effect and return it to the retailer where it was purchased for a full reimbursement. The product will be uplifted and safely discarded from all stores.
