John Patroulis, worldwide chief creative officer at Grey global is this year's Cannes Lions Outdoor jury president. Under his creative leadership Patroulis has delivered celebrated work winning Lions across multiple categories for brands such as Axe, Google and Sony Playstation. Patroulis said:

“ This particular category comes to life in so many different ways. A lot of the entries are using lots of new innovation and are creating new things. But we kept coming back to this campaign when we thought about the absolute single best piece of work in the show. Nothing lived up to the power of this image at this moment in time, culturally and in society.” ”
